

BKLYN "Upping the Bar on Inclusion: Exploring Patterns of Exclusion in Early Childhood" Recommended Resources

This resource list was created for the session "Upping the Bar on Inclusion: Exploring Patterns of Exclusion in Early Childhood," as part of the BKLYN Early Childhood Educator Series, a series of 6 professional development workshops curated by BPL for early childhood educators and librarians working with young children in diverse schools, early childhood settings, institutions, and libraries

Created by BPL_YFS

---

The art of Miss Chew

Polacco, Patricia.

An art teacher helps a student get the accommodations she needs for her learning disability in the autobiographical story. Grades 1-4.

A boy and a jaguar

Rabinowitz, Alan, 1953-

The noted biologist describes his struggle with stuttering as a child. Grades 1-3.

A brand-new me!

Winkler, Henry, 1945-

Hank's strength in theater arts help him fit into a new school, informed by the author's experience with LD. Grades 2-4.

Brothers and sisters

Dwight, Laura.

Photographs and essays describing the relationships between siblings with and without disabilities. Grades PK-3.

My brother Charlie

Peete, Holly Robinson, 1964-

Ryan Elizabeth Peete fictionalizes her relationship with her autistic brother. Ages 3-6.

Thank you, Mr. Falker

Polacco, Patricia.

A fictionalized memoir of Ms. Polacco's relationship with the teacher who finally recognized her LD and her strength. Grades 2-4.

BKLYN "Upping the Bar on Inclusion: Exploring Patterns of Exclusion in Early Childhood" Recommended Resources

This resource list was created for the session "Upping the Bar on Inclusion: Exploring Patterns of Exclusion in Early Childhood," as part of the BKLYN Early Childhood Educator Series, a series of 6 professional development workshops curated by BPL for early childhood educators and librarians working with young children in diverse schools, early childhood settings, institutions, and libraries

Created by BPL_YFS

---

Be quiet, Marina!

DeBear, Kirsten.

Marina has trouble sitting still because of her ADHD. Ages 3-6.

Rolling along : the story of Taylor and his wheelchair

Heelan, Jamee Riggio.

A child with cerebral palsy describes where wheelchairs come from. Ages 3-6.

Silent days, silent dreams

Say, Allen, author.

A fictionalized biography of James Castle, an autistic, deaf artist. Grades K-3.

Victoria's day

Campos, Maria de Fatima.

This photo essay follow Victoria, who has Down Syndrome, to preschool and throughout her day. Ages 3-5.