

BKLYN BookMatch- Epic Science Fiction and Political History

This list was created by a librarian with the Brooklyn Public Library for a reader looking for epic science fiction and political history and analysis. Would you like your own personalized list of reading suggestions? Visit Bklyn BookMatch here: bklynlibrary.org/bookmatch

Created by BklynLynetteF

Every sky a grave : a novel

Posey, Jay, author.

In a distant future where humans have established thousands of utopian worlds, a monastic planetary assassin investigates a forbidden strain of a universal language that challenges what she understands about the nature of the cosmos.

Ninefox Gambit

Lee, Yoon Ha

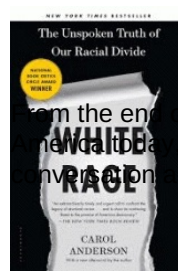

Given the opportunity to redeem herself for past crimes, Captain Kel Cheri is tasked with retaking the Fortress of Scattered Needles, a star fortress under the control of heretics, a mission that requires her to partner with an untrustworthy ally.

Fascism : a warning

Albright, Madeleine, author.

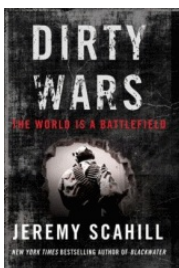

A former U.S. secretary of state and New York Times best-selling author presents a timely, considered and personal look at the history and current resurgence of fascism today and the present threat it poses to international freedom, prosperity and peace.

White rage

Carol Anderson.

From the end of the Civil War to the tumultuous issues in the present day, an acclaimed historian reframes the conversation about race, chronicling the powerful forces opposed to black progress in America.

Dirty Wars

A sobering expose of secret war programs currently being conducted behind the scenes of the War on Terror, drawing on interviews with CIA agents, mercenaries and other operators to reveal the human consequences of night raids, drone strikes and other unofficial "dirty-war" tactics.